

Powering Travel Payment™

Mark Rademaker
Managing Director, Emerging Markets

Mark Rademaker is Managing Director, Emerging Markets for UATP and is responsible for driving growth and steering UATP's strategy in the region. Based in Singapore, he also forges close ties with existing issuers to develop strategy, to stimulate growth, and to consult on various technical and operational issues.

Prior to joining UATP in 2006, Rademaker previously worked several years in the airline industry in various commercial roles at Continental Airlines and more recently at Northwest Airlines based in Tokyo.

Rademaker holds a B.S. in Business Administration from Embry-Riddle University and received an MBA from Carlson School of Management, University of Minnesota.